Election In Central Saanich

LORNE THOMSON

SYDNEY PICKLES

R. M. LAMONT

W. W. MICHELL

An election is assured in Central Saanich in December both for the reeveship and for the two councillor vacancies.

Announcement was made this week by Lorne Thomson, of Brentwood, former Central Saanich councillor, that he will be a candidate in the election for reeve. He will be opposed by the present incumbent, Sydney Pickles, who is making a bid for re-election.

Three Central Saanich residents have already announced that they will contest the two two-year vacancies on the council. They are R. M. Lamont and W. W. Michell, retiring councillors, and Arthur Bolster, Brentwood garage man and former fire chief. Mr. Lamont announced his candidature some time ago. Mr. Michell informed The Review this week that he would not have allowed his name to stand if an acclamation appeared likely. On learning that Mr. Bolster would be a candidate, he at once decided to run as he favors elections not acclamations.

G. D. Moody, of Brentwood, retiring police commissioner, informed The Review that he will seek re-election to that body. There are two vacancies.

No one has yet announced that he will seek the seat on Saanich School Board which will become vacant at the end of the year. Rumor has suggested for some time that H. J. MacDonald, of Brentwood, unsuccessful candidate in the 1951 election, would run as school trustee. The Review was informed on Wednesday that Mr.

MacDonald will not be a candidate.

Meanwhile one election meeting has been arranged by the municipal council for Tuesday evening, Dec. 9, at eight o'clock in the Saanichton Agricultural Hall. All candidates will be invited to present their platforms. Frank Snowsall, Saanich M.L.A.-elect, has consented to act as chairman of the meeting.

PENDER COUPLE MOURNS LOSS OF ONLY SON

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Davison of Port Washington, Pender Island, were bereaved recently when their son, Sgt. Andrew Bruce Davison, R.C.M.P., was called by death on Sunday, Nov. 16, in Vancouver.

Sgt. Davison was the director of the Vancouver administration office of the federal police department. Sgt. Davison, who had served with the police from August, 1931, was 43 years of age.

The police officer lost his right leg after a football accident, while serving on the force.

He is also survived by his wife, Jean, and one daughter, Mary Jean.

A military funeral with full R.C.M.P. honors was conducted on Wednesday, Nov. 19, in Vancouver. Interment followed in Capilano View Cemetery.

BACK FROM INTERIOR

J. F. Cooper, well known East Saanich Road farmer, has returned from a short trip in the B.C. interior. He visited his former home of Rossland, where he met G. T. German, former Sidney bank manager.

Leisure Islands Laughter

Full Length Novel by the Late P. W. Marsh

Chapter XXIX FLAIR FOR ACHIEVEMENT

The more we saw of Gavin Monat's character, the more it seemed to resemble the character of Salt Spring Island itself. Both were pioneer, agricultural, developmental, and ingenious. Both had a flair for achievement. Gavin Monat started the idea of electric power and the Salt Spring Islanders went along with him. He developed a plan for a consolidated school and, after an initial period of doubt and opposition, they endorsed that too. They accepted his financial schemes for maintaining the Lady Minto Hospital. Now they were debating and increasingly endorsing his proposals for extended water storage and mains.

A pioneer island, acquiring city and suburban characteristics definitely changes; some people think for the better. At the moment, there appeared no doubt which way Salt Spring Island was headed. Waterfront property, farms, and even interior tracts of logged-off land, were being divided and subdivided as more people came to retire or to join in business activities.

Gavin himself clings to pioneer instincts despite his business growth. Hence the sweeping well-kept acres of his hillside ranch and the earnestness with which his family devote themselves to his work.

HIS FAVORITE

The Starks, a well-known pioneer colored family, had once had their home in this area. Mrs. Sylvia Stark, who lived to be 106, was a favorite of Gavin's in the early days. "She was a devoted old lady," Gavin said, "whose favorite biblical admonition was 'Fear not, for I am with thee.' Despite the troubled days through which she lived she stuck to her principles." She told Gavin that once

SPARLING IS NAMED HEAD OF BOARD

Donald Sparling, Sidney rector, was unanimously elected chairman of the Village of Sidney planning commission at the inaugural meeting of the body in the village hall on Monday evening. Other members of the commission are Commissioners G. L. Baal, H. M. Tobin and G. A. Gardner and Herbert Bradley and W. J. Skinner.

The commission will serve the village fathers in an advisory capacity.

Under Mr. Sparling's direction, an intensive study of the planning commission's responsibilities was immediately launched. Committees were struck to report at a meeting on the evening of December 4 when a suggested by-law for village planning will be considered.

The council meeting which preceded the planning meeting was under the gavel of Commissioner Tobin in the absence of Chairman White who was suffering a slight illness. Commissioner Baal was absent in Vancouver.

Final reading was given to the Sidney traffic and parking by-law and it has been submitted to the motor branch for approval.

Grocery Order From Toronto

The wide coverage provided by The Review has been proven by a reader in far-away Toronto.

Several weeks ago Sidney Cash and Carry grocery store featured canned salmon for overseas delivery in its regular Review advertisement. But the proprietor, W. W. Gardner, was somewhat surprised to receive an order from Toronto for the salmon. Directions were given for shipping the canned goods to Britain and a money order accompanied the request.

The order was sent to the Sidney grocer by Flight Sergeant A. L. Dallin, stationed for some time with the R.C.A.F. at Patricia Bay airport. He was transferred east some time ago but is still a faithful reader of The Review. At present Flight Sergeant Dallin is a patient in Toronto Military Hospital.

HOLLYWOOD MAN TO RESIDE HERE

Attractive Ardmore waterfront property of Col. C. S. Thorpe has been purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Borthwick, who intend to take up residence here shortly. They are both natives of Scotland. Mr. Borthwick has been active in the moving picture industry in Hollywood until his recent retirement.

Col and Mrs. Thorpe plan to spend the winter in Arizona and will return to this district to reside in the spring.

Tall Aerial

Sky-line of the Village of Sidney changed materially during the week-end. A tall television aerial was erected above the Army, Navy and Air Force Veterans' Club on Fourth Street. The aerial is 80 feet in height and is erected on the roof of a 22-foot building, raising the top more than 100 feet above the ground. The aerial was erected by R. J. McLeish, Sidney electrician, who is installing the television set.

World Recognition of His Work

Farm Poultry Expert's Theories Are Acclaimed

Outstanding contribution which R. A. Sansbury, poultry expert at the Dominion Experimental Station, Saanichton, has made in the study of eye condition of White Leghorns, is receiving recognition from the United States, France and other countries. His years of research are being acclaimed by poultrymen in many parts of the world.

Superintendent J. J. Woods, of the Experimental Station, has furnished The Review with the following summary of recognition now being paid by poultry experts to Mr. Sansbury's successful work at the North Saanich farm:

Around the World
The Dominion Experimental Station at Saanichton disposed of its flock of White Wyandotte poultry which had received world wide attention through exhibits at World Poultry Congresses in Spain in 1924, Italy in 1927, United States in 1930, England in 1933 and Germany in 1936. These exhibits had been selected Five more candidates for the five vacancies on the Sidney village commission announced this week that they will enter the December 11 election. They are G. T. Sims, Third St. dealer; H. Fox, ladies wear merchant; G. L. Baal and C. W. Burrows, Sr., retired residents; and H. Bradley, sawmill operator. Previous to S. G. Watling, J. Bilgeri and R. C. Martman had announced their candidatures. An election is thus assured.

Polling booth will be located in the village hall on First St. J. A. Hymers, village clerk, who is acting as returning officer, informed The Review that property owners may vote for as many as five candidates on the single ballot which will list the names of all candidates.

Mr. Sims, who has been an active businessman here for many years, informed The Review that he will, if elected, do all in his power to further the welfare of the village. Mr. Fox and Mr. Baal have served as temporary commissioners of the village since it was incorporated several months ago. They are the only two present acting commissioners to announce that they are willing to serve during 1953.

Mr. Bradley, a veteran of the R.C.A.F. who came to Sidney during the Second Great War, operates a sawmill in Central Saanich. He resides on Third St.

Mr. Burrows, a resident of Sixth St., filed his nomination papers with the returning officer this week.

Teachers' Salary Increase Is Studied By Board

Incomes of teachers serving Saanich School District No. 63 will increase by 21.2 per cent during 1953 over 1952 if the request of the Teachers' Association is accepted by the School Board.

Education committee of the board has issued to The Review a press release showing how the teachers' requests would affect the salary schedule. Meanwhile the board has written to the teachers, asking reasons for such a sharp salary boost.

The following table shows how the proposed increase would affect a number of teachers.

Teachers	Certifi- cate	Yrs. Exper	Present Salary and Suppen	Proposed Salary and Suppen	Amount of Increase	Percent Increase
High School Principals	SA	14	$5,345	$6,500	$1,155	21
School Principals	SB	27	$5,480	$6,350	$870	16
Elementary School Principals	SA	11	$5,330	$6,200	$870	16
Elementary School Teachers	SB	8	$3,715	$4,835	$1,120	30

The release indicates that the maximum individual increase sought by the teachers is $1,245 or 31 per cent; whereas the minimum individual increase sought is $320 or 17 per cent.

Garbage Problem Solution Found

—By Village Council

There is every indication that the long-standing problem of the location of the troublesome garbage dump in Sidney has been solved by the village commission.

Village commissioners, taking office a few weeks ago, wasted no time in getting their teeth into the serious garbage problem. They conferred with the provincial government in Victoria and solicited the assistance of authorities there. The government was asked to present to the village a substantial area of crown land located on the western slopes of Mount Newton which could be used as a garbage dump.

Government inspectors visited the area and are satisfied themselves that if the land were used as a garbage dump, it would comprise a nuisance to no one. A large ravine, in which the refuse could be dumped, would handle the entire village garbage for countless years.

Will Be Deeded

In session on Monday evening of this week, the commission was advised by the government that the land would be deeded to the village as requested. The commissioners agreed to accept the offer at once and to express their thanks to the government for its co-operation.

Application will be made for rezoning of the new garbage area as soon as title is secured from the government.

It is understood that executive of the Sidney and North Saanich Chamber of Commerce, which presently owns the existing garbage dump on Sidney's waterfront, is desirous of deeding the area to the village on the understanding that the eyesore will be cleaned up without delay.

REFERENDUM AUTHORIZED ON LIBRARY QUESTION

A library service referendum will go before Central Saanich voters in the December 13 municipal election. In announcing that the taking of the referendum has been authorized, Reeve Sydney Pickles issued the following press statement:

"The wording of the referendum is now under consideration. It has been suggested that the electors be given a chance to express their choice between the simple and less expensive library service at the library in Victoria and the combined bookmobile and library building service. The choice arrangement may not be practical and a simple library service ballot for the combined service may be adopted by the Municipal Council. "Many misleading and totally incorrect statements are now being made by both advocates and opponents of the library service regarding the charges to be paid to the municipality for such service.

Question of Cost

"There is little doubt that everyone would like to have library service available and that those who may use it would benefit. It is simply the question of cost of the service which must be paid for by the municipal ratepayers which arouses objection. The present position should be clearly and impartially stated and further information published when received, for the benefit of the voters.

"No official 1953 figures are yet available. They are now being prepared by the Victoria Library Board and will be published when received. Not even a preliminary tentative 1953 estimate exists at this time.

"The chief librarian in Victoria stated to me on Monday, this week, that certain funds are available which may be used by the Victoria Library Board to purchase a bookmobile truck and special body. Also that the cost of additional

To Wage War On Canines At Airport

The dogs are in the doghouse. Too many pet pooches located around North Saanich have been finding their way to the Patricia Bay airport.

Department of transport officials at the airport have been disturbed in recent weeks by the large number of stray dogs roaming around the landing field, jeopardizing the safety of the system.

This week, Airport Manager Ken Thomson announced that the destruction of stray dogs on the airfield is provided for by law. The department has no desire to enforce this regulation, he stated, but if there is no control exerted by the public, the department will be obliged to carry out the policy. The owner of the dog is liable to prosecution.

Hazard to Flying

A dog straying into the path of an aircraft may present a hazard by confusing the pilot. In the case of a small machine and a large dog a crash may be caused if the aircraft strikes the animal.

A similar condition developed during the recent war, when the Royal Air Force police carried out an extensive campaign against straying dogs, following a near-crash.

MISS BESSIE JACKSON IS WED IN IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY

Tastefully decorated with autumn flowers and fern, St. Paul's United Church, Sidney, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday, Nov. 22, at 8 p.m., when Bessie May Jackson, daughter of J. T. Jackson, Victoria, and the late Mrs. Jackson, was united in marriage to Sidney Roberts, son of S. Roberts, Shoal Harbour, Sidney, and the late Mrs. Roberts. Rev. W. Buckingham officiated and the organ interludes were played by H. Vine, with the choir, of which the bride is a member, in attendance.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked lovely in a floor length ivory satin gown with a panel of lace, appliqued with satin down the front and lily point sleeves. Her finger tip veil enriched with lace inserts was held in place by a Juliet cap trimmed with orange blossoms. Pearls were her only ornament. She carried a bouquet of carnations surrounding a gardenia centre.

Miss Lorna Mae Ritchie, Victoria, niece of the bride, was her maid of honor. She wore a gown of yellow embroidered organdy and carried a bouquet of mauve chrysanthemums. Another niece of the bride, Miss Mary Lou Waters, Victoria, was bridesmaid, wearing a gown of pink embroidered organdy and carried a bouquet of pale yellow chrysanthemums. Both wore floral headaddresses duplicating the blooms in their bouquets. They wore rhinestone necklaces and earrings.

The flower girl, Roberta Anne Norbury, was dressed in turquoise net over taffeta and carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations with matching bandeau for her aunt's marriage.

The bridegroom had E. Thomas, of Victoria, as best man, and ushers were E. G. Jackson and E. W. Jackson, of Chemainus, brothers of the bride.

During the signing of the register another brother of the bride, W. A. Jackson, of Chemainus, sang "O Promise Me", impressively.

A reception was held in the Knights of Pythias Hall, Fourth St. Mrs. R. L. Ritchie and Mrs. D. Norbury assisted the bride and groom in receiving the guests. The bride's table was covered with a white linen cloth and centred with the three-tiered wedding cake embedded in tulle with white tapers in silver holders on either side. The toast was given by F. J. Baker. During the evening musical numbers were given by Mr. and Mrs. A. Byford, A. A. Cormack, F. Aldridge, W. Cowell and Misses Eileen Bowker and Dianne Johnson.

For going away, the bride wore a brown and gold wool dress topped by a forest green shortie coat, brown accessories and a gardenia corsage. They will spend their honeymoon in Portland, Ore., and Los Angeles, Calif. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Roberts will reside on Shoreacre Road, Sidney.

Out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Ritchie, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Waters, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Ritchie, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Ritchie, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Zabel, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Bethell, Mrs. F. Pryznik, Dianne Pryznik, Mrs. A. R. Thomas, E. Thomas, all of Victoria; Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Andrews, of Chemainus; Mr. and Mrs. W. Allen and E. Jackson, South Wellington; Mr. and Mrs. F. Jacchini, Campbell River, and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wark, New Westminster.

PRIZES PRESENTED TO SAANICH HOLSTEIN CALF CLUB MEMBERS

The large hall of the Saanichton Experimental Station was a scene of gaiety and good-fellowship, when the parents and families of the Saanich Holstein Calf Club entertained the young members at their annual banquet on Monday, Nov. 10. Covers were laid for 60, and Miss Muriel Rendle, who had charge of the catering, and the mothers, who produced the delicious repast, were alike congratulated upon the excellence of the cuisine.

Among the many guests and friends present were Des Hazelette, district agriculturalist; Jim Ryder, assistant agriculturalist; Alec Hall, B.C. Electric agricultural consultant; Miss Joan Standen, president of the Cowichan Jersey Calf Club; Miss Annabelle Loveseth, president of the Cobble Hill Jersey Calf Club; and Ken Aylard, president of the Saanich Jersey Club.

E. Edwards, manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, Victoria, B.C., was guest speaker, and gave a short but interesting and informative talk upon the relationship between banking and farming, with particular reference to the advantages of the Farm Improvement Loan.

Prizes Presented

Prizes were presented after dinner, Joseph Taylor carrying off the award for winning Calf Club member, and Miss Bette Rendle taking the prize for the best calf. After all the Calf Club awards had been handed out, Mr. Hazelette presented Alec Hall with a diploma testifying to his seven years of good work as

BASKETBALL FANS TREATED TO KEEN DISPLAY AT SAANICHTON

Four good games of basketball were played in the Agricultural Hall on Saturday evening last.

The Biddy boys started the evening with excitement for all. Saanichton seemed a little too good for the visitors with their good checking and shooting and came up with a win. Score was Saanichton 19, Brentwood 7.

The second game of the evening was turn-about but a very close game. These two teams of Midget boys are well matched and it was anybody's game to the last. Final score was Brentwood 11, Saanichton 8. Third game of Bantam boys was close all the way. Brentwood seemed a little faster than the home team but it was a good game to watch. Score was Brentwood 21, Saanichton 14.

Final Game

The final game between Saanichton (Copley Bros.) and Butler's Aces was the highlight of the evening. Butler's Aces, with their experience and same combination, should have shown better, but Saanichton were right there with good checking and, having signed on two more players, will prove hard to beat. The game saw-sawed all the way. Several times during the evening the score was tied, but at the final whistle Butler's Aces were three points up on the home team. At the close of play the score stood at: Butler's Aces 44, Saanichton 41.

The following are the games to be played in the Agricultural Hall on Saturday, November 29, at 7 p.m.: Biddy Girls: Saanichton vs. Sooke; Bantam Girls: Saanichton vs. Sooke; Juvenile Boys: Saanichton vs. Sooke; Senior Men: Saanichton vs. Sooke.

BRENTWOOD

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Keenleyside, Brentwood Auto Court, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a baby daughter, Susan Patricia, on November 5.

Congratulations are being extended to Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Pugh on the birth of a daughter at the Royal Jubilee Hospital on November 20.

Dr. and Mrs. Hans Buser, who have been guests at the Brentwood Auto Court for the past two years, are leaving for their home in Switzerland on December 1. Dr. Weber is taking Dr. Buser's place as pharmacist at the Springwood Laboratories. Dr. and Mrs. Weber are also staying at the auto court.

Guests recently arrived from England are Mrs. Ford-Volk and her friend, Mrs. Clare Downer, of the Isle of Wight. Other guests at the Brentwood Auto Court are Mr. and Mrs. Gabl, parents of Mrs. Doug. Beaumont, who have arrived for their annual winter vacation.

The Rev. Dr. Lee's friends, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chapman, have arrived from Lacombe, Alta., to take up winter residence.

Mr. and Mrs. Wood, who have been guests at the auto court since their marriage, will be leaving for their new home on December 1.

The basketball games played at the community hall on Friday night resulted as follows: Saanichton biddy boys beat Brentwood by a 13-4 score; in the bantam girls' game Saanichton was again the winning team, defeating Brentwood 25-9; the final game saw McMorris take Brentwood in a hard fought battle in the berlin the parent (mother) of a pupil in school. The skit pointed out the importance of a conference of parent with teacher in which leading remarks or questions were in regard to the new report cards, difference between achievement and work habits, grading a pupil and obtaining authority for child's absence from school.

A discussion took place among the 12 members and principals to good advantage.

The December meeting has been postponed but the executive are hoping for better attendance for the January 20th meeting.

A PROBLEM IS SOLVED

FOR many long and unsanitary years, the problem of the refuse dump located right in the waterfront heart of Sidney has seemed to provide a problem incapable of solution. Only two short months ago the Village of Sidney was incorporated by provincial government order-in-council. Today the garage disposal problem has been solved for many years to come.

The numbers of Sidney residents today who are not firm believers in the benefits of self government for a community are few and far between. And the acting commissioners who are giving of their own time and labor to conduct village affairs until their successors can be elected next month are fully deserving of warm congratulations for finding the solution to this long-standing and vexacious problem so quickly. The dump will be re-located without delay and there is no suggestion that this progressive step will prove expensive or likely to raise the tax level an iota.

Sidney residents owe a considerable debt to their acting commissioners. They can show their appreciation on Dec. 11 by electing any temporary commissioners who decide to seek election to office for 1953.

DECEMBER ELECTIONS

A NEW batch of candidates have appeared on the hustings since The Review last published. And elections are now assured next month in both the Municipality of Central Saanich and in the Village of Sidney. We're cheered at the appearance of so many eligible gentlemen as candidates. And who knows but what some "dark horses" may appear before nomination day on Dec. 4.

In Central Saanich a battle is looming for the re-election. The present incumbent is to be opposed by a former councillor. Residents of the municipality and surrounding districts who enjoy a good ballot race can be assured of some first rate entertainment in the meeting of an "irresistible object and an immovable force". The election is scheduled for Dec. 13.

A contest is also assured for the two council seats, three aspirants having indicated their intentions of contesting the vacancies.

In the village eight candidates are seeking the five seats on Sidney's first elected commission. Three men to win the greatest support at the polls will serve for two-year terms while the next two in order will be elected for one year. Property owners may vote for as many as five candidates on Dec. 11.

WEEKLY NEWSPAPERS RECOGNIZED

BRITISH Columbia Power Commission serves Salt Spring Island and many other parts of this province with electricity. The Commission also publishes an attractive little pamphlet, "Progress" which is of general interest to its staff and the public generally.

The Review has pleasure in reprinting the following editorial which appeared in the current issue of "Progress":

"This is to say 'thanks' to the weekly newspapers of British Columbia.

"In the past seven and one-half years, the work of the Commission has favorably affected the lives of thousands of people in communities served for the most part by weekly newspapers.

"The support given this organization by these papers is gratifying to those who have had the task of improving the availability and supply of electric power to this province—a task that has been and is being carried out despite the problems of immense and rapid expansion in a young public utility.

"Support when you are young is a big help, and it is with humble pride that the Commission points to its achievements and trusts that it has justified the faith placed in it by the weeklies—often when some factions were unjustly criticizing this utility.

"There is common ground for the weeklies and the Commission. Each does a job for the community—the Commission through its service in its various power districts, and the paper, through being, first and foremost, essentially a community paper, free from outside dictation and domination.

"The weeklies have backed us up in our work generally, and as a rule, on specific projects. They have aimed criticism at us when they felt it was justified; that, of course, is the prerogative of the fourth estate, and to that we have no objection, providing criticism is constructive and based on the full and proper facts viewed impartially.

"The spirit of co-operation and friendliness which exists between individual weekly editors and Commission workers is indicative of the overall genuine approval given by the weekly newspapers to this organization.

"When you meet the weekly editors of B.C. in their respective towns, you cannot help but admire their work. Operating a weekly paper is a difficult job, for a man must be editor, reporter, advertising solicitor, printer, circulation manager and businessman all in one.

"We commend these men on the job they are doing for British Columbia; and we look forward to many more years of happy association with them and the Commission continue to serve the people of this province."

REDISTRIBUTION

Editor, Review.

Sir:

Premier Bennett has recently been quoted as being in favor of bringing into effect a redistribution of the seats in the legislature, so it is opportune to urge the re-establishment of what was known since 1902 as the Islands Riding.

For a great many years what is known as North Saanich has been linked with the Islands in the lower Gulf of Georgia to form an appropriate and historic electoral district. The first member was a Liberal, T. W. Patterson, a contractor of Scottish birth who had resided in British Columbia since 1885 and later became Lieutenant-Governor.

A comparison of the population of the district is interesting for it may be noted that in the 1903 election only 375 votes were polled. Mr. Patterson polled 221 over his Conservative opponent, Mr. Bullock, who received 154. That was not unusual in those days for in the Skeena district only 352 electors voted.

In 1907 the McBride government was again returned and A. E. McPhillips, later Mr. Justice McPhillips, the Conservative candidate defeated Mr. Patterson by only 6 votes. In 1909 Mr. McPhillips was re-elected and became a member of the cabinet. He was again elected in 1912 by a large majority and he continued to represent the riding until 1913 when he was appointed to the Bench. In the by-election which resulted W. W. Foster (now Major General) who was at that time Deputy Minister of Public Works was elected by a large majority.

In 1915 the Parliamentary Guide shows General Foster on active service as a captain with the 2nd Canadian Mounted Rifles. He contested the election in absentia and was defeated by the late M. P. Jackson, K.C., by only 8 votes. By this time the Liberals had come into power and the standing in the legislature was as follows:

Liberals 37
Conservatives 9
Socialists 1

Mr. Jackson continued to represent the riding until 1924 when he was defeated by Col. C. W. Peck, V.C. Col. Peck sat in the House as a member of the Opposition, the Liberals under the late John Oliver holding 25 seats and the Conservatives 14.

In the 1928 election a Conservative government was returned and Col. Peck was re-elected with a very substantial majority, the returns being Col. Peck (Cons.) 1148, M. B. Jackson (Lib.) 683. Col. Peck continued to represent the constituency until 1933 when he resigned owing to the pressure of his work as a member of the Canadian Board of Pensions and Captain (now Lieutenant-Colonel) Macgregor F. Macintosh was returned as member for the riding by acclamation in January, 1931.

Following the Tolmie government debacle, Colonel Macintosh did not run in the 1933 election when the late Alexander McDonald was elected as a Liberal.

However, in 1937 Colonel Macintosh defeated Mr. McDonald 953 to 694 and the C.C.F. candidate received 414 votes. Colonel Macintosh thus represented the riding until it was gerrymandered by the Liberal government at the end of the 1938 session.

The Redistribution Committee approved the exclusion of the Islands Riding after a bitter fight even among the Liberals in its own ranks. The Vancouver Province of November 28, 1938, printed the following: "that portion of the Liberal steam roller which is represented on the Redistribution Committee of the House puffed into action this morning and crushed the Islands Riding into oblivion."

All the Islands became included in the Nanaimo City Riding in face of the fact that they had no direct connection with that city. The committee voted 6 to 4 and the late R. W. Bruhn remarked that it was "most damnably unjust and unfair". One of the Liberal members on the committee excused the committee's action by saying that it would take too long to go to Salt Spring Island to investigate the matter and ascertain the wishes of the people as had been suggested by H. G. Perry, Liberal of Fort George.

The Bill finally came up for passage in the last days of the session. Passage of the Bill was expected to be one of the most drawn out affairs of the session but it was actually passed in the matter of five minutes, following a vain attempt by Colonel Macintosh to send the Bill back to the Redistribution Committee. Thus Colonel Macintosh was deprived of a seat in the legislature but more important the electorate had to accept someone nominated from Nanaimo as their member who regardless of his high character was not a real representative of the people of the old Islands Riding.

In the 1941 elections which followed, Colonel Macintosh ran in the Saanich Riding and was only defeated by 78 votes out of 8,441. This result of course reflected the indignation of the people over the elimination of the Islands Riding for political purposes, but we are not so much concerned with the motive as we are with the desirability of North Saanich being aligned again with the Islands Riding with which they are so much connected. North Saanich has much more in common with the Islands than it has with urban Saanich—has different problems and interests.

Therefore it is submitted that in any redistribution the Islands Riding should be re-established and the great increase of population would fully justify such action. This is very much a matter for the people of North Saanich and the Gulf Islands to consider.

A FAREWELL

Editor, Review.

Sir:

Through the medium of your paper I would like to say good-bye and thank you to the people of Sidney.

Certainly one could travel the world and never find a more beautiful spot or more friendly people, and it has given me a dream for the future, a place we can hope to come back to and live the best life to be found anywhere.

We will not, of course, expect to find it exactly as we left it, but even better, since the busy and progres-

As part of its milk conservation program the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund (UNICEF), has supplied dried milk, bottling and pasteurizing equipment to several countries in Europe and the Middle East. At the right, milk newly arrived from a Soissons farm is dumped into the pasteurizer, while the manager of the dairy M. Three Questions For Candidates PROPERTY owners of Sidney on Thursday, Dec. 11 will go to the poll in the village hall to elect five commissioners to handle the affairs of their community during the next year. It will be the first such election in Sidney's 60 years of existence.

In order to assist the electorate to determine the candidates whose platforms appeal to them most, The Review is inviting each candidate to answer a number of questions concerning his views. Answers should be delivered to The Review office before noon on Monday, Dec. 1 for publication on Wednesday, Dec. 3. Those who accept the invitation and answer the queries will be assisting the electorate materially. Any candidates who do not bother to assist the electorate in this way will deny themselves the privilege of enlightening the voters at no cost to themselves.

The questions are as follows:

- (1) Do you conscientiously believe that the community of Sidney will benefit through incorporation?
- (2) Can these benefits be achieved without increasing taxation?
- (3) Explain in 100 words what contribution you are prepared to make towards a successful Village of Sidney.

AN INVITATION

Editor, Review.

Sir:

Seeing our address has been changed from Hart Highway to Queen St., still Prince George—I would again extend an invitation to anyone who comes up our way to look us up.

The Review's Book Review

"The Far Country", by Nevil Shute; William Morrow; 343 pp., $4.

Nevil Shute is among the most popular authors of the day. Invariably sufficiently light to hold the interest of the reader, his books are equally consistent in their standard of plot and writing.

Shute is of particular significance now as he is undoubtedly the most popular author in Australia today.

This is his second book to have a setting in the southern hemisphere and the title, Far Country, refers to that continent. The transfer of his interests to Australia has provided the author with an unlimited scope for his pen.

This is the story of Australia and Britain in the changed conditions brought about by two major wars. Britain is becoming a less pleasant country in which to live and the attention of the people is to the Commonwealth.

As a sideline to that main theme the author finds a Czech-Slovakian doctor working in a lumber camp in Australia. The immigrant has arrived as a displaced person, after having served with the German army throughout the Second World War. In order to obtain his passage to the new continent the doctor is obliged to sign up for two years' labor. Under Australian law he may not practice without taking his three final years of medicine at an Australian university.

Shute takes the reader to Australia and the strange effects of war which bring a professor of fine arts to the laying of plates on the railway.

The setting of the story takes place in the southern continent and in Britain. A Britain of socialist experiment and of no great appeal to the writer.

This makes good reading and serves to introduce Australia to the reader who does not care for non-fiction, works on the subject.

"The Island", by Jean Matheson; Collins; 255 pp., $2.50.

When Dr. Alexander MacArdal lost his mother and his dog he was at a loose end. As from that point there is a suggestion that so is the book. Written around a possible, but highly improbable condition in a remote island off the Scottish coast, the book features a man who attracts trouble.

Dr. MacArdal is unlike any normal hero of a novel. Not particularly attractive in appearance or character, he is weak in every way and a pessimist of no mean achievement.

The story of a few weeks in Scotland is light and amusing in parts, but fails to clearly indicate what it is all about.

The book vies with the best seller mystery stories in one aspect. Although not in that category itself, it manages to see as many lives terminated in a short space of time as many a war story.

I was amused but not impressed.

Home-Made Switchel

(Ottawa Journal)

The countryman does not go so far as to claim that the quivery and gelatinous instability of these nerve-sapping years is due entirely to the passing of switchel as a summertime beverage. He does claim, however, that if more men drank this tangy, zestful drink more often many of the minor but irritating problems of the epoch would fade into proper perspective.

Mothers made gallons of switchel in haying time and it was a powerful morale booster on corn and potato hoeing days. To a gallon of water she added about two heaping cups of sugar, a generous cup of molasses, a cup and a quarter of vinegar and a scant teaspoon of ginger. Men folks kept the large, grey earthenware jugs in the running water of the meadow brook, beneath a haycock, or perhaps buried it in the cool earth. A young lad hoeing corn or pulling the bull-rake in the hayfield learned early that frequent trips and shorter drinks helped pass the hot July hours.

The drink had a pleasant sweet-bitter flavor as it slid comfortably into the department of the interior. It had food value as well as assuaging a thirst when the sweat was running down one's nose and the temperature was near the century mark. We are not opposed to flavored pop; some of the flavors are excellent. But we wish more men and boys knew the goodness of home-made switchel in hot weather.

There were 11,836 motor vehicles and 18,640 bicycles stolen in Canada in 1950, and 11,600 motor vehicles and 15,244 bicycles recovered that year.

"Mr. Showbusiness"

The dapper, 63-year-old Toron-tonian, Jack Arthur, backed by 50 years' experience in the entertainment field, tells his life story as Mr.
Showbusiness, every Tuesday night at 9.30 on the CBC "Trans-Canada" network. The show traces Arthur's career from the time he wore knee-breeches on the Glasgow stage to his showtime years in Canada and the United States, with lively music by Howard Cable's orchestra and chorus to spark his reminiscences. The gay days of vaudeville, burlesque and the old showboat are relived each Tuesday night by Canada's Mr. Show-business, Jack Arthur.

Ambergis is worth almost twice as much as gold.

You walk through the little fishing cabin and into the small kitchen at the rear and look down on the body of George Willis, lying behind the table, a knife protruding from his chest. After noting that a large open window provides the only outlet from the kitchen, you walk back through the cabin and face the distraught Herbert Stickeney out in front of the cabin.

"I can't understand who would have wanted to do this to good, old George," he exclaims. "He was popular with everyone, and certainly we were congenial partners in our business!"

"Suppose you give me the entire story," you suggest.

"Well, we had come up here to do a little fishing for the weekend. George complained of not feeling very well this morning, and so I left him lying down here in the cabin while I went out onto the lake. Just before noon I decided to return for a little lunch, and somehow as I was coming up the path—maybe it was the quiet around the cabin or just premoni-tion—but I got the feeling that something was wrong. I quickened my steps, threw open the door —and there was poor George! I'll never forget that sight! That knife!

"After a few minutes," he continues, "I ran to my car and drove into town to phone you."

"Have you seen any suspicious characters around here since you and your partner arrived?" you ask.
"No, only a few other fishermen.
They seemed all right."

You walk around to the rear of the cabin and peer in through the window at the body. "Window's large enough," you comment to yourself. Then you stop suddenly, snap your fingers, and hurry back to Herbert Stickeney. He's your man.

How do you know?
Solution

According to Stickeney's story, he had thrown open the only door in the cabin—at the front—and without entering, had seen the dead man. Yet the body was in the kitchen at the rear of the cabin, behind the table.

LEGION NEWS

(By William Stewart)

Those members who have not yet submitted the names of their children under 12 years of age, to the secretary, are requested to do so immediately as the committee wishes to have the list completed by December 1. It will be possible for the members to leave the names with the steward in the clubroom any time during this week.

GETS "LAST WISH"

When 16-year-old Gillian Poole, of Hitchin, Hertfordshire, was asked in a British TV quiz: "What would be your last wish if you had only 20 hours to live?" she replied eagerly: "Fly in a Comet." One of the viewers of that particular program was Sir Miles Thomas, chief of B.O.A.C. He promptly arranged for Gillian to be taken on a Comet training flight over the English Channel. Now she wants to be an air hostess.

Young Canada Listens

CBC National School Broadcasts, now in their tenth year, provide interesting information for young student and teacher alike. Each program is planned by experts to suit classroom needs at times when students can best hear it. These school programs are not substitutes for classroom teaching, but supplement the teacher's efforts with dramatizations of history, descriptions of nature study, and character studies of important Canadian personalities. Above, Mrs. Margaret Eckel, an occasional teacher at Lampton-Kingston Public school in Toronto, tunes in on one of the programs for Peggy Nichols, who has recently come to Canada from England.

WANTED — A PEN PAL

BOY WRITES FROM AUSTRALIA

Here's an opportunity for boys and girls of this district who might seek a pen-pal in Australia.

The following letter was delivered to The Review office this week: The Local Newspaper, R.R. 2, Saanichton, B.C., Canada.

Dear Sir/Madam:
I wish to ask you a favor. Could you please find me a pen-friend? I would be very pleased if you would put an ad in your paper about it.

I am 15 years of age. Fond of tennis, hockey, film stars and pictures (to which I go every Saturday). I collect stamps of all countries, and very fond of reading and swimming. I do not mind whether it is a girl or boy pen-friend but they must be no older than 16 or younger than 14. My birthday is on June 7.

No matter how many letters are sent to me I will answer every one of them. I think that is all the information any one would want.

Thanking you,

I remain,

SHIRLEY BREBNER.

P.S.—I still go to school, although it is a high school.

THE REVIEW'S MARKET LETTER

(By H. A. Humber, Ltd.)

It is necessary at this time to examine the effects of armament expenditures and their relation to present market conditions. Since the Korean war started the U.S.A. has had ample time in which, with their mass production methods, to bring their armament manufacturing to required peak, at the same time catching up on domestic requirements.

This under normal circumstances would indicate a cut-back in general business. However, the inflationary spiral continues and until such time as a curb is found, business will continue, particularly in airplane, TV, automobiles, household appliances, cement, tobacco, etc.

Gifts Presented At Shower

Miss Bessie Jackson was guest of honor at a shower given recently by Mrs. P. Eckert and Mrs. S. Pearson at the home of the former. On arrival a corsage of roses was presented to Miss Jackson and a corsage of mums to her sister, Mrs. D. Norbury.

The chair for the guest of honor was decorated with pink, blue and white streamers and bells.

The bride elect's table was decorated with a miniature bride, groom and attendants.

Many beautiful gifts were opened and admired. Miss Jackson thanked her friends. Bingo was then played followed by refreshments.

Invited guests included: Mesdames D. Norbury, C. Pearson, J. Nunn, S. Dahl, P. Chappel, E. Brown, R. Pearson, G. Smith, P. Pastro, C. Larson, H. Tripp, P. Osborne, W. Tripp, H. Pederson, A. Kerr, A. Eckert, M. Eckert, C. Eckert, A. Stillwell, E. Sapsford and the Misses R. Nunn, B. Eckert.

Through its central office at Imperial College, London, the International Association for the Exchange of Students for Technical Experience sent 488 students overseas in 1952, and in return 602 overseas students were received for experience in British industry and commerce. At present 17 countries are participating. Canada is expected to take part in the exchange next year.

T. T. SPORTS

(By Karl Wylie)

Whether it was their new socks and shorts nobody knows but Sidney Teen Town scored their most convincing win of the season as they plastered Division 11 Eagles 8-1. A good crowd at the Sidney Memorial Park witnessed the exhibition game.

It was only Sidney's second win of the season in 10 starts, but their second in a row. Twelve days previous the same team lost 5-1 to the Eagles. Sunday, showing an amazing reversal of form the locals scored four goals each half to win easily.

Robert Harris was easily the star for T.T. The tricky inside left scored four goals for the locals, two in each half. Dave Gray, George Holt, Jim Pearson and Phil Paul each notched singletons for Sidney. John Walker was credited with the Eagles' goal.

All of Harris' goals were well earned. Pearson's goal was the nicest of the game as he headed the ball into the net.

There was little action around the Sidney goal and the Sidney goalie had little to do. Martin Cooper, Jr., known as "Poodles", playing his first game at centre forward, played outstanding ball for Sidney.

As mentioned above, the Teen Towners were wearing new socks and shorts and most sweaters had a number upon them.

J. McKinley and Fred Magee, Eagle officials, were quite surprised at the Sidney team's playing. Both seemed to think that T.T. would do better in league play.

To Play in Victoria

Next week Sidney plays the Vets in Victoria. Sidney expects to sign two more players before then. Wilf Humphries and Thomas Sampson are the prospective players.

The league banquet for players will be held Friday, Jan. 9, in the Victoria Ballroom.

All players will soon be insured under the Association's new player protection plan. The council has agreed to pay the necessary fees to cover the team.

The Lineups

feel as free as the breeze and it's a happy feeling.

I still love it up here and definitely haven't seen enough of this country yet and that takes in a lot of territory, north and south.

Wouldn't mind dropping in on my friends, though, and that means you and you and you.

Then there's a mound in the churchyard yonder, where sleeps our dear boy, Ley.

"The years are quickly passing, Though still we can't forget, For in the hearts that love him His memory lingers yet. God knows how much we miss him.

Never shall his memory fade; Loving thoughts shall ever wander To the spot where he is laid."

The weather is simply grand this fall, will surely shorten the winter. And that reminds me, Christmas will soon be here, so best wishes for a happy one and may 1953 be a blessed one.

ALL THAT GLITTERS

Editor, Review,

Sir:

All is not gold that glitters. While reading about Gavin Monat and his gold mine last night I brought back to memory days of long ago back at Salmon Arm. In the summer of 1910 I was working a farm on the bench lands at Salmon Arm belonging to Professor Sharp of Agassiz Experimental Farm. During my work I had to dig a well four by six feet deep to draw off the water from a 10-acre orchard. On digging the quicksand kept running down as fast as I dug. I was obliged to use cribbing and to deepen it as I dug deeper.

On getting down to a depth of about four feet I rested for a little to fill my pipe and to have a smoke. Beginning to dig again and getting down about five feet deeper, I noticed the quicksand changing color and some flakes the size of a herring scale appeared and they stuck to my pants and boots like gold. I took up a handful to let Mrs. Reid see it and then took up a panful.

I washed it and washed it until it was almost free of sand. I put it in a box and sent it to Glasgow, Scotland, to a cousin, A. T. Reid, who was a chemical assayer there. In the meantime we made all kinds of plans. However, one day the mail brought me a letter from the Glasgow assayer.

"Sample of dust received: a small quantity of gold shows, but the remainder is mica."

I can sympathize with Gavin Monat for I came through the same disappointing experience. It was the outcrop of a vein of mica.

SAWDUST MULCH OF REAL VALUE IN CONSERVING MOISTURE

Conserving soil moisture is always a problem for growers on Vancouver Island. Summer droughts are frequent and cause low crop returns. In particular, the southern part of the Island is very dry. The average rainfall for May, June, July and August is only 3.73 inches and much of this falls as light ineffectual showers. For many growers irrigation water is not available and for others only in limited quantities.

One of the most practical ways of conserving soil moisture, particularly for horticultural crops is with sawdust mulch. In most areas this material is available at a reasonable cost. It lowers the evaporation by protecting the soil surface from the sun and from hot drying winds. The moisture conserved by the sawdust is available for plant growth.

Many Experiments
At the experimental station, Saanichton, many experiments are being conducted using sawdust mulch on tree fruits, small fruits, bulbs and vegetables. For most of the crops tested results have been very encouraging. A large percentage of the increased yield can be attributed to the additional soil moisture.

However, during very dry seasons, such as 1951, the soil becomes dry even under sawdust mulch and irrigation water must be applied to obtain germination and subsequent growth. It is also essential that the mulch be applied early in the spring when the soil is moist. It has been found that a mulch two or three inches in depth is the most satisfactory for soil moisture conservation in this area.

Director

HARRY McNICHOL

Harry McNichol, Saanichton farmer, has been appointed a director of Western Canadian Raw Fur Auction Sales Company, Ltd., it was announced last week by the Vancouver company. Mr. McNichol, whose farm is located at Newman Road, will serve as the representative of his company on Vancouver Island.

SON-IN-LAW OF SIDNEY COUPLE

The Vancouver architectural firm of Sharp and Thompson, Berwick and Pratt, who designed new schools erected by Saanich School District No. 63, have been awarded three silver medals in the 1952 Massey Medal competition for designing the University War Memorial gymnasium, the Tilden "U" Drive office and a residence in Vancouver. These awards are among eight given by Canada by Canada's Governor-General.

The Victoria representative of the firm is C. E. Craig, who has worked closely with the school construction program in this district. He is the son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Osborne Scott, of Sidney.

TEEN TALK

Unfortunately Teen Town made only a small profit at their recently held dance but most people enjoyed themselves.

Thursday the council approved the expenditure of $13.50 to insure the football team.

This columnist would like to apologize for his failure to thank those who contributed refreshments for the football teams after the last Sidney game.

Next week we have more to report on to break the monotonous brevity of this column.

books, wages for two people, the librarian and the driver who assists with clerical work, and all operating, maintenance and all operating charges will become ratepayers of the greater Victoria area including Central Saanich, if a member. Each member municipality paying its share according to the use it makes of the library service.

"When a municipality becomes a member of the greater Victoria library area it cannot resign without giving a clear notice of one calendar year in advance.

The cost to each municipality is determined on the basis of usage the previous year therefore the cost in any year has to be paid the following year.

"There is no way for Central Saanich library users to pay individually for their use of the Victoria Public Library as this library does not accept subscriptions from any person. It only accepts municipalities as its residents at a cost, on a use basis, which must be paid by all the ratepayers in the municipality.

"Central Saanich cannot get provincial library service as such service is not available to municipalities or their residents.

"An advantage to be gained, by using the Victoria Public Library service, would be that a far greater stock and selection of fiction, technical and reference books than is available from other library service which are accessible by our ratepayers, would be obtained.

"My municipal duty as reeve of Central Saanich, regardless of my personal views, is to see that all available and impartial information is placed before the voters of Central Saanich before they vote on any matter. I must also endeavor to check the spreading of any incorrect and misleading propaganda from either side. I have been advised that as a candidate for the office of reeve in 1953, it would be politically wise for me to evade the library issue entirely. I regard such shirking of my public duty, by a trick of political expediency, as utterly dishonest. I am determined to carry out, in an unflinching manner, my official public duty on all matters, at all times, regardless of all political considerations. It is incredible as it may seem. My sole interest being to see that our Central Saanich Municipality will continue its operation on a strictly impartial basis. During 1952 our municipal operations have been carried out in a particularly efficient and harmonious manner which has been a very great improvement over the conditions which existed during 1951."

Egg Market Is Well Stabilized

Weekly egg and poultry market report follows:

While prices on grade "A" large and medium held steady this week, smalls advanced five cents to bring the values in line. Stored stock of this grade are clearing well and generally this market appears to be fairly well stabilized. Two cartons of oil processed stock arrived this week from prairie points. Local receipts are down slightly. Sales have improved, both local and to up-coast points.

With lessening supplies of good chicken and fowl, prices tightened slightly this week. Broilers are still in good volume and small lots of turkeys are arriving.

Paint Brushes
After painting, the brushes should be placed in a can filled with turpentine, and when the work is completely finished, wash them well in soap and water. Much of the paint can be squeezed out first with newspapers. Very thorough washing is necessary and you may have to work the hairs in hot soapy water before all the paint can be removed. Then dry the brushes thoroughly.

Artificial Flowers
Artificial flowers can be kept in a fixed position if the stems are placed in sand and hot turpentine is poured over the sand.

Cigar Ashes
Gold and silver articles can be cleaned very nicely by dipping a wet cloth into cigar ashes and scouring.

Castor Oil Substitute
Prune juice is a good substitute for castor oil. Soak the prunes overnight, then stew in the water in which they have been soaked. When tender, pierce them with a fork to let out the juice; do not sweeten.

Prevent Blowing Down
When airing coats or any other garments, use two coat hangers instead of one. Hang them on the line so that one hook opens to the right and the other left. This will prevent their blowing down.

Omelets
When making the next omelet, add one-half teaspoon of baking powder to every four eggs, beat thoroughly, and the omelet will be lighter and more tasty.

Milk Pans
If it is difficult to clean the pan in which milk has been boiled, try covering the pan with a lid, try pouring out the milk, and before the steam escapes. Allow to cool, and then fill with cold water. The pan will wash out easily for you.

Rendering Fat
To render fat, cut into small pieces or run through the food chopper. Then melt in the upper part of the double boiler. Strain through cheesecloth, laid in a wire strainer.

Plants
Water-soaked newspapers twisted around the roots of the plants, against the dirt, will keep the plants moist.

Paring Vegetables
The thin, tender skins of new vegetables and young carrots can be easily removed, and without waste, by rubbing gently with a copper-tinsel pot cloth. Keep both vegetable and cloth wet by dipping frequently in water.

SERVICE CLUB NOTES

The North Saanich Service Club's old-time dances are proving a popular pastime as shown by those attending the dance held last Friday evening. A feature of the evening was the "Name of the Orchestra" contest which was won by Miss F. Bradley, Victoria, who submitted the name "Harmonaires". Miss Bradley's prize was two free passes to dances for the season.

The list of donors to the Club's Orphanage Milk Fund is growing daily. The articles for sale include home cooking, home sewing, garden plants, potatoes, and many others. Contributions may be sent to J. H. Nunn, 821 Henry Ave., Sidney, Phone 41X.

tory. These deposits comprise the funds of more than 1,900,000 customers from coast to coast.

"Fully half these deposits are made up of the savings of private citizens," was the comment which G. C. Johnston, the Sidney branch manager, made in a message issued today by the B of M in reviewing for its customers the highlights of its annual statement.

The report, which is for the year ended October 31, shows an increase in loans of $65,811,000 over the 1951 figure. This brings total loans up to the highest record in the bank's history—$712,179,846. These loans, the message from the manager states, were made "to business and industrial enterprises for production of every kind—to farmers, fishermen, oil men, miners, lumbermen and ranchers—to citizens of every calling, and to provincial and municipal governments and school districts."

Strong Position

Nearly a billion dollars of the assets are in high-grade government bonds and other public securities which have a ready market. In referring to these holdings, the manager's report notes that "this money helps to finance government projects for the betterment of Canada and the welfare of her people."

Amounting to $987,000,000, these holdings represent the greater portion of the bank's quickly available assets, which total $1,552,000,000, equivalent to 70 per cent of liabilities to the public.

Total resources have also reached an all-time high, at $2,286,477,930—an increase of close to $65,000,000 over the 1951 year-end figure and an all-time record for Canada's senior banking institution.

Big Tax Bill

After providing for a tax bill of almost six million dollars—$900,000 more than for 1951—the bank reports net earnings of $5,668,778 from the operations of its nearly 600 branches. After payments to shareholders there was a balance in profit and loss account of $2,700,000 and from this the bank made a transfer to reserve fund of two million dollars. This fund now stands at $53,000,000.

when she and her husband returned from church they found one of their men lying dead in the fields, scalped by an Indian.

In those days there were a number of colored settlers, a colored teacher named Jones—Salt Spring's first teacher—and a colored preacher. It seemed that a party of 18, half of whom were colored men, came to Salt Spring Island in 1859. The landing was probably made at Vesuvius Bay, but the settlers spread out over the north end and as far south as Ganges. The colored people were good citizens who, following disputes in the United States, had come north both from California and farther east after receiving permission from British Columbia's Governor Douglas. Their good qualities were recognized then by their companion white settlers and their descendants are equally respected today. There is no racial feeling whatever on Salt Spring Island.

Vesuvius Bay is near Salt Spring's northern tip. Some five miles south of Vesuvius is Ganges Harbor, the business centre of the island. Home Cooking Sale Is Planned Plans for the home cooking sale are being completed. Mrs. R. Morris gave an interesting report on the Harbor on the east and Burgoyne Bay on the west form a somewhat similar division between centre section and south section.

These natural separations were interesting for several reasons. Local pride had produced differing outlooks. Ganges had a certain complacency in its superior development, both commercial and residential. Vesuvius was beginning to get a bit snooty about its multiplying homes and rising real estate prices. Fulford continued to believe that its rugged mountains and beautiful valley had an unequalled pioneer charm.

We talked a lot about Gavin, going home. "We should have asked him about his auctioneering," I said. There was the time he offered a vacuum cleaner for sale in a house where two bachelors, not unacquainted with the virtues of beer, had used their refrigerator for storing laundry. Gavin was supposed to have said: "Now take this vacuum cleaner. It also is in perfect condition." Looking around him at the typical bachelor disorder of the place, he added: "Everybody knows it was never used."

British Columbia's First Distillery Founded in 1904 by William Braid

Founder with Foresight

In the days when British Columbia cities were being hewn out of giant forest stands, few men foresaw the tremendous future in store for Canada's Pacific Province.

One man who did was William Braid. In 1904, he founded the Province's first distillery—The British Columbia Distillery Company Limited in New Westminster.

At a time when that city's population was a mere nine thousand, William Braid was laying the firm foundations... setting the policy of quality... for an industry that has played an increasingly important part in B.C.'s economic development.

Since 1904, the Company has steadily expanded its facilities to meet the growing demand for its quality products at home and in the markets of the world.

Today, the modern British Columbia Distillery on New Westminster's Braid Street stands as tangible evidence of the foresight of its founder—William Braid.

Fully half these deposits are made up of the savings of private citizens... hard-earned dollars that mean a backlog of money for their use. At the end of the Bank's year, on October 31st, 1952, total deposits stood at the record figure of $2,147,900,000.

LOANS: During the year, your Bank made many thousands of loans to business and industrial enterprises for production of every kind — to farmers, fishermen, oil men, miners, lumbermen and ranchers — to citizens of every calling, and to Provincial and Municipal Governments and School Districts. At October 31st, B of M loans amounted to $712,179,846 — the highest figure in the history of the Bank.

INVESTMENTS: Always keeping a good proportion of the money on deposit in quickly available form, your Bank has $987,000,000 invested in high-grade government bonds and other public securities which have a ready market. This money helps to finance government projects for the betterment of Canada and the welfare of her people. In addition, the B of M holds $121,116,603 in other securities — mainly short-term credits to industry.

My Bank has just completed its 135th year with assets amounting to $2,286,477,930 — the highest figure in its history. The B of M's growth is part of the growth of all Canada and of this community, and I am proud of the place my customers have in this story of progress.

SIDNEY REALTOR TELLS ROTARIANS ABOUT BEEKEEPING AS HOBBY

At the weekly dinner meeting of the Sidney Rotary Club on Wednesday evening last, the guest speaker was James Ramsay, a member of the club, who chose "Beekeeping" for his subject. Backed by 50 years' experience with the stingers, Mr. Ramsay demonstrated equipment and showed his listeners how to start with a queen bee and three pounds of bees (Italian bees from California) from which he took, in the month of September, two gallons of honey.

He traced the life cycle of the hive from the busy queen, who lays 2,000 eggs a day and can predetermine their sex, in queens, drones and worker bees, to the death of the drone in the queen's nuptial flight when she leaves the hive momentarily at the age of three days herself.

The height of interest in this talk could be measured by the many questions asked during discussion time. A number of ardent beekeepers, including Geo. Fleming and Arthur Brown, pointed up the many sides to this subject. The speaker made it all sound so simple; which shows that 50 years in any line makes a difference.

Humor was added by anecdotes from the floor. One member had two swarms in his bedroom; another part of a swarm in his pants "after which I quit beekeeping," he said; another said "I ducked as I walked down the street and a swarm 10 feet long, which missed a lady in front of me, took my hat off."

Geo. Fleming, in thanking the speaker, said "I took 100 pounds of honey from my hive the first season and after that the government inspector came along and burnt the whole blooming works for foul brood." Altogether the audience gathered that a bee's life, like a policeman's, "is not a happy one."

Guests included Jack MacKay, James C. Nimmo, Ralph Snider, Ross Main, Tom Morrison and Arthur Brown from the Victoria club, and E. A. Rothery and Richard B. Gile, both of Sidney. Bill James was songmaster. Syd Penny was given musical honors for his birthday, led by Vic Dawson.

Two members were duly installed: John C. Anderson, classification "lumber retailer," introduced by Past President Frank Stenton, and Jack Johnstone, classification "banking," transferred from the Rotary Club of Haney, B.C., introduced by President Harry Tobin.

The president announced that next week's meeting will be followed by the directors' meeting. President H. M. Tobin was in the chair.

DIAMOND JUBILEE TO BE OBSERVED

In a recent story on the development of one of the country's leading milling companies, The British Columbian in New Westminster explained that the Brackman-Ker Milling Company originated in North Saanich in 1878.

In that year Henry Brackman, a Cariboo gold mining veteran, and James Milne, a Scottish miller, produced flour where the home of Mrs. A. Barrow now stands at Shoal Harbor. For many years North Saanich commercial life centred around that mill-site. In due course David Ker, of Victoria, joined the small concern and for many years a fine quality oatmeal was the main product of the pioneer mill.

The mainland newspaper goes on to tell that in 1884 the first branch of the company was established in Victoria. This marked the first stage of an expansion that was destined to become known throughout the world. Today, The Brackman-Ker Milling Company exports its products all over the world. The small mill at North Saanich has been lost. No connection with the humble origin now exists. Next year will mark the diamond jubilee of the company.

CHINA SHOWER IS ENJOYED

Miss Bessie Jackson was honored when Miss Lorna Ritchie, her maid of honor, entertained on Saturday evening, Nov. 15, at a china shower at her home on Arnold Ave., Victoria. On her arrival, Miss Jackson received a gardenia and carnation corsage. The many gifts were arranged under a decorated umbrella and were presented by little Roberta Norbury and Kenneth Ritchie.

During the evening a comedy skit was presented by Mrs. G. McElroy and Miss Ritchie. Games were also in play and the winners were Mrs. D. Norbury and Mrs. B. Taylor. The refreshments were served from a table covered with a damask cloth and centred with a white and pink bride's cake. Mrs. C. E. Waters and Mrs. E. Pryzynek presided at the tea and coffee urns.

Other guests included Mesdames R. L. Ritchie, O. R. Thomas, W.

ANCIENT PUBLICATION

REVEALS ERROR IN GRAMMAR

Periodically old cupboards undergoing a clearance yield unusual newspapers and documents. A large number of such documents find their way to The Review office.

The most recent acquisition is in the form of two copies of the British humorous weekly, Punch.

The issues of the paper, for dates in 1876 and 1885, are interesting records of a bygone day. They were recently unearthed by J. Moir, of All Bay. The advertisements, which are copious, are addressed strictly to the gentility and nobility. The cartoons are aimed at largely the nouveau-riche with his flair for advertising his humble origin. The humor of many of the jokes has been swallowed up with the years. There is no possible doubt that everyone except the targets found them exasperatingly funny.

The reading matter in these early copies of Punch is largely divided between two subjects. The affairs of parliament and Mr. Punch's comments on current affairs take up most of its columns. The remainder of the space is occupied by advertising and cartoons.

Today it is the advertisements that hold the greatest appeal.

No Galluses

Advertising a patent type of braces, "galluses" were only found in Transatlantica, the manufacturers of the imposing spiral-spring variety notes that one man could only carry on without braces by hitching up his trousers in front of ladies. "an objectionable practice." The final feature was that the braces would not rust.

Pear's soap was recommended by Professor Sir Erasmus Wilson, F.R.S., in company with Addina Patti and Lillie Langtry. Whether Sir Erasmus used it for the same reason as Madame Patti was not stated. His complexion must have been a joy to behold if this was the case.

It is a disturbing experience to find that Punch, the most punctilious of all publications should permit its advertising columns to state that "none are genuine without it". Mr. Punch must have been enjoying a holiday when his columns were thus abused.

Of the innumerable advertisements to be found in these columns, nearly half the products are on sale today and many are still regular advertisers with Punch.

Cheap Watches

Gold watches were offered at five guineas upwards, silver watches were only three. These were about $16 and $13 respectively.

A lady's riding habit was offered for the same price as a silver watch. Significant among the advertisements were those for tooth paste and dentifrice. These varied from one shilling and sixpence up to four Waters, F. Waters, C. E. Waters, M. Waters, A. H. Winter, W. F. Jenkins, G. L. Ritchie, R. J. Ritchie, A. R. Colbert, J. Zabel and the Misses Mary Lou Waters, Dianne Pryzynek, Loretta Norbury.

For the sum of six pounds and 17 shillings a man could, furnish his bedroom including a suite, mattress, eiderdown, easy chair and screen. This represented about $26.

Efficacious Salts

A corporal serving with the 19th Hussars in Cairo, Egypt, wrote to the manufacturer of a prominent brand of effervescent salts, which is still on the market, stating that he had experienced three bouts of fever.

The first had necessitated six weeks in hospital.

The second and third attacks had been painlessly overcome by the use of the salts. The soldier concluded by noting that he owed his health if not his life to the product. He was, incidentally, remarkably adept with his vocabulary.

The issue of June 3, 1873, is now more than 76 years old. The publication had then experienced over 30 years of successful publication.

Same Language?

"East is east and west is west and ne'er the twain shall meet!"

When those words were written Kipling was mindful of the Orient and the Occident. Today, a half-century later, the words may well be applied to the language which Kipling spoke.

Recently a document was received in the office of The Review, originating from the British government. It is an official form which has its counterpart in almost every country of the world. The applicant who submits the form is seeking a driver's license.

In Canada, from Newfoundland to British Columbia, the applicant who seeks to drive is presented with a "driver's license". In Britain he is provided with a "driving license".

This differentiation extends to other fields. The driver's wife in Britain observes her "washing day" while her Canadian counterpart is busy on "wash day". (The driver who goes out fishing in these coastal waters may use a "rowboat". When he travels down the Thames he uses a "rowing boat".)

Car Trouble

When the car will not start the British driver lifts the bonnet and checks his "sparkling plugs". In any local garage he cleans his "spark plugs".

Strangely enough, this dissimilarity does not exist in some directions. Enthusiastic horsemen still acquire "riding boots" on both sides of the Atlantic. "Shooting sticks" are not unknown today in both countries. When the enthusiastic pedestrian in Britain or Canada takes long walks he uses "walking shoes". There is no suggestion of "ride boots" or "shoot sticks" or "walk shoes". Who said it was the same language?

There is one consoling thought. Whether the pedestrian is hiking about the hills of Yorkshire or the mountains of British Columbia, he will probably finish up with corns.

There were 231,295 golf balls, 104,483 dozen golf balls, 200,730 baseball bats, 40,295 footballs, and 53,094 tennis, badminton and squash racquets made in Canada in 1950.

The Wise Gardener

Notes From Saanichton Experimental Station

Nearly every year we read or hear about a tragedy traceable to Christmas trees becoming ignited by faulty lights or some other reasons. While it may seem a bit early to be thinking of Christmas trees, we think a brief reminder on how to fireproof your Christmas tree will be welcome news.

The particular method we prefer is that one that consists of applying a mixture of waterglass either by spraying or dipping the trees in it. This method is not only non-poisonous and effective but it is also inexpensive. Use nine parts of waterglass (soluble sodium silicate with one part of water). To this mixture add one heaping teaspoonful of a spreader or wetting agent such as Dreft or other packaged soap substitute for each quart. Spray the tree and allow it to dry before it is taken into the house.

This will also enhance the appearance by giving the foliage a shiny, translucent finish. For best results it is advisable to place the tree in a pan of water or very wet sand in the house. (Waterglass is obtainable in most grocery stores).

Ripe Grapes

The current autumn season has been unusually favorable for the ripening of grapes. Many of the old varieties grown in past years such as Concord and Vignes were too late for conditions prevailing at the Station. Much experience has shown that varieties to be successful here must be as early as Campbells Early.

still one of the very best black varieties and harvested about October 10. Fredonia (black) is a week earlier than Campbells but is not considered to have the quality and it also tends to shatter on handling. Fredonia berries are smaller than those of Campbells Early. Van Buren (black) is a new variety from New York State and is very promising as it is early, attractive with good quality and large bunches.

In a popularity poll taken at the Station the best black grape varieties in order of merit are Campbells Early, Van Buren, Worden and Fredonia.

Eight varieties were considered. Thirteen green varieties fruited in 1952 and were evaluated on the basis of quality, size and appearance. Brocton, a new variety from New York State is undoubtedly one of the better green grapes with berries of medium size and early enough to ripen satisfactorily. Seneca is early and of excellent quality but has been disappointing in yield at the Station. Portland is another good green sort with a berry medium to large in size and mild in flavor. Several other green varieties are interesting and of good quality but are not popular because of their small sized berries.

A few plants of grapes should be found in every garden as a source of fresh fruit and for juice-making. Cultural operations, even of pruning, are simple and the gardener is well repaid for his effort. Care and management of plants are well outlined in available pamphlets.

Fall Spinach

Fall sown spinach in station plots is nicely up and much now depends upon January weather as to how successful the crop will be. Spinach can usually be counted upon to overwinter and produce a crop for early May cutting except in locations that become very wet.

It is advisable to leave the plants unthinned until the end of February when the worst of the cold and wet weather is over. If thinning is done in the late fall, the plants seem to be more subject to frost injury. This is probably due to the fact that the plants which remain after thinning lack the protection of other plants growing adjacent to them.

Another factor is that if cold weather comes after thinning and reduces the stand, it automatically reduces the yield, whereas the same number, or even more plants could requests for further information followed. Following publication of the article in Poultry Science, an excerpt of the article was published in the March 1948 issue of the magazine 'Excerpta Medica' under the editorship of staff at the University of Amsterdam.

Die Prematurely

In November 1950, Mr. Sansbury addressed the Pacific Northwest Poultry and Turkey Breeders' Conference at the University of British Columbia, Vancouver, and spoke on Eye Condition in Relation to Vitality and Egg Production. He particularly stressed that birds with irregular pupils, and those on which the pupillary edge of the iris was either definitely broken or was no longer round, or had given the eye a blurred appearance, are the birds that should be culled from the laying flock as they are the ones which die prematurely. This address was published in the November 1950 issue of the 'Canada Poultryman'.

In the January 1951 issue of the Poultry Digest appeared an article, 'Can We Cull By Eye Condition Alone?' This article was essentially the same story that was published in the December 1950 issue of the Canada Poultryman.

During recent weeks a number of requests have been received for additional separates of Mr. Sansbury's article. One of the more recent requests comes from the University of California, from the Poultry Department at Davis.

In France

Under date of October 22, 1952, Mr. Sansbury received a letter from 'Le Courrier Avicole', French newspaper, dealing with scientific and practical agriculture, published at Pacy-Sur-Eure, France. The literal translation of this letter is as follows.

"We had the pleasure of publishing in our November 1951 number a translation of a lecture (which appeared in the Poultry Digest) which you gave on the following subject: 'Can sorting be carried out solely by examining the eye?'"

"Several correspondents, who are very interested in this lecture, have asked us to give them further information. So we should be very grateful to you if you could send us the whole text of this lecture, either in French or in English, and eventually all work you may publish on this subject. Thank you very much."

"Continues in Mr. Sansbury's work continues among poultrymen in all parts of the world. Just recently it has been brought to the attention of the Poultry Department at the Experimental Station that at Cornell University they are now concentrating on the pupil condition of the eye, rather than on the iris condition which has in the past been the basis of selection when using the eye as a criterion.

"On November 28 Mr. Sansbury had been requested by the R.O.P. Poultry Association of British Columbia to address their meeting at Langley on the subject of Eye Condition in Relation to Egg Production and Mortality."

Telephone Building Plans Now Complete in $2,000,000 Automatic Program for Albion, Belmont and Colquitz

Here is an artist's conception of how the new Albion, Belmont and Colquitz telephone exchange buildings will look when completed. All three will be similar in appearance, differing slightly in size only. Total cost of the new structures which will house automatic equipment to replace the existing manual systems will be in the neighborhood of $1,500,000.

The B.C. Telephone Company has completed its plans for three attractive, modern new exchange buildings to house the automatic telephone equipment which will replace the existing Albion, Belmont and Colquitz manual systems.

Tenders are being called for now, and work on these new buildings, which will account for approximately $150,000 of a big $2,000,000 program, will begin early in the new year, and installation of the complex automatic equipment will start next summer.

The three new automatic exchanges will be "cut over" for service in the spring of 1954.

At the same time that the automatic conversion takes place, inter-exchange charges between Albion, Belmont, Colquitz and Victoria will be eliminated. It will then be possible to call anywhere within the Greater Victoria area simply by dialing the desired number, with an average speed of nine seconds on such a call.

Meantime, work is well under way on a $500,000 addition to Victoria's automatic telephone facilities. This follows completion of one of the largest outside cable programs ever undertaken by the company in Victoria. A $300,000 project, this added well over 60,000,000 feet of wire to the Victoria telephone cable system, most of the additions being underground.

The Deep Cove group of St. Paul's W.A. held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. A. Moore on Wednesday, Nov. 19. This was a quilting party. The members met in the morning, had lunch and finished the quilt in the early afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Richardson, Wains Road, went by plane to Seattle, where they will visit relatives.

The Deep Cove group committee called a meeting at the school on Thursday evening to discuss the matter of acquiring a hall for the community. A committee was appointed to gather all the information possible then call another public meeting to present this project.

The Deep Cove Community Club held their annual meeting at the school on Friday, Nov. 21. Election of officers resulted as follows: president, Wm. Stewart; vice-president, E. Munro; secretary-treasurer, Wm. Brown; membership, Mrs. H. Watts; program, Mrs. Wm. Todd; Mrs. T. Hay; social, Mrs. Braithwaite and Wm. Todd; publicity, Mrs. Watts. Mr. Erickson, Mr. Stewart and Mrs. Moore were elected as representatives on the group committee. Cards were played and winners were: whist, high, Mrs. W. Smith; low, Miss W. Brown. "500", high, E. Munro; low, Mrs. E. Munro. Crib, high, Wm. Stewart; low, Wm. Lannon.

Mrs. Bowes, Clayton Road, has returned from Rest Haven hospital. J. Kempe is still a patient at the Veterans' hospital, Victoria.

CHRISTMAS PARTY PLANNED BY LADIES

The regular monthly meeting of Ladies' Auxiliary No. 63, A.N. and A.F. Veterans, was held in the card room of the veterans' club on Thursday, Nov. 13. The president, Mrs. C. Hetman, presided, and 13 members were present.

The chairman of the entertainment committee, Mrs. M. Gordon, reported that $16.30 was realized from the bingo party held on November 4. This money will be put into a fund to purchase a wheelchair for the D.V.A. Hospital in Victoria. It was decided to hold a Christmas party at the next meeting, December 11. An exchange of gifts will be made and a social evening enjoyed, following the business meeting, which will feature the nomination of officers for the 1953 term.

The tombola, donated by Miss I. Smelser, was won by Mrs. I. Bennett.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served.

PERFORMANCE OF SIDNEY MAN IMPRESSES THEATRE GOERS

Theatregoers from all parts of lower Vancouver Island were loud in their praise of Sidney's Michael Rothery this week. Playing the lead role in "The Hasty Heart" at the new York Theatre Repertory Company, Mr. Rothery presented an accomplished performance throughout the course of the two weeks' run.

Supported by an excellent cast, the Sidney player maintained the role as an embittered Scot and as a Scot re-born and filled with the joyous love of his fellow men.

The play depicts a group in a British field hospital unit during the Burma Campaign. The setting brought back many a poignant memory of the days of the Second World War and the ready camaraderie which exists between perfect strangers sharing the same service conditions.

Into the midst of the group is thrust Sgt. Lachlan McLachlan, complete with an extremely well simulated Scot accent. During the course of the play his isolationism is broken down and he cannot sleep for want of opportunity to discourse on all and sundry with his fellows.

Unanswered
The question running through the play was never answered. What does a Scotsman wear beneath his kilt? With the close of the play it was forced upon the audience that only two could answer this query. The first was a Scot and the second is Michael Rothery. Perhaps one or the other will inform us.

There was no doubt left in the minds of the audience who attended the play that the company ranks high in the field of entertainment.

Mr. Rothery is a resident of All Bay Road, Sidney, where he lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Rothery.

Sansbury Parents Plan Social Evening

Regular meeting of the Sansbury P.T.A. was held at the school on Tuesday evening, Nov. 4, when J. Watson presided. Mr. Watson expressed his appreciation of the action of the Saanich School Board in providing the school with a further supply of chairs.

Mrs. D. R. Ross was unanimously elected as historian of the group.

The next meeting will be a social evening of cards, bingo and an auction. Preliminary arrangements were made to hold the meeting in the Farmers' Pavilion of the Dominion Experimental Station, on Tuesday, Dec. 2, at 8 p.m. All members were urged to bring a friend.

Mrs. B. Christian, principal of Sidney elementary school, addressed the meeting on the subject of modern methods of education.
